CONSTANTINE ABDICATES, IS REPORT

COUNTY DOCKET TO BE STARTED ON OCTOBER 16

Booze Cases Predominate in Criminal Hearings Booked for Trial.

LABOR TRIALS LISTED

Six Actions to Involve Rules Pertaining to Working Laws.

One hundred and twenty cases, most of them criminal actions, are booked for trial when the regular October term of county court opens here October 16, according to dockets posted Wednesday by order of County Judge Tal Crawford.

Of these 70 are criminal, 44 are civil, and six are motions.

Liquor cases predominate upon the criminal docket, 53 of the cases originating from alleged violation of prohibition laws. Most of these are for possession and manufacturing.

This term comes close on the heels of a heavy district court term which is scheduled to open Monday, October 2. In both courts a total of over 400 cases will be up for trial. It is believed however, that the majority of civil cases in both courts can be handled with dispatch, many of them being non-jury proceedings.

Six Labor Cases.
Six cases involving alleged violation of the state labor laws are prominent on the criminal docket of the county court. Suits upon debt predominate on the civil county court program.

Despite the fact that funds for operating the county and district court are tied up in an injunction hearing pending against the state board of equalization, filed by the Rock Island and Frisco railways, the tribunals here will be opened without any delay, it was understood Wednesday. Arrangements have been made with banks whereby this can be done, it was explained.

Estimates submitted by Court Clerk L. E. Franklin called for $7,000 for operating the district court and $1500 for running the county court during this fiscal year. All this was allowed by the state board of equalization but the funds are temporarily held up by the railroads' restraining petition.

BODY OF GIRL IS GONE FROM GRAVE; MYSTERY IS DEEPER

(By the Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27.—Police investigating the disappearance of the body of Miss Celestine Schneider, 18 years old, from its grave in a cemetery in St. Louis county today discovered that the body of a person at first believed to be that of a man had been burned to death in the ruins of a garage was that of a woman. They announced they are attempting to find what connection there is between the two.

Simultaneous with the finding of the body in the ruins of the garage police were informed that Harry Brenn, owner of the garage, had disappeared from home. It was believed that possibly the body was that of Brenn and not until this afternoon did an examination reveal it was that of a woman. The body was burned beyond recognition and all identification marks were destroyed, even to the teeth.

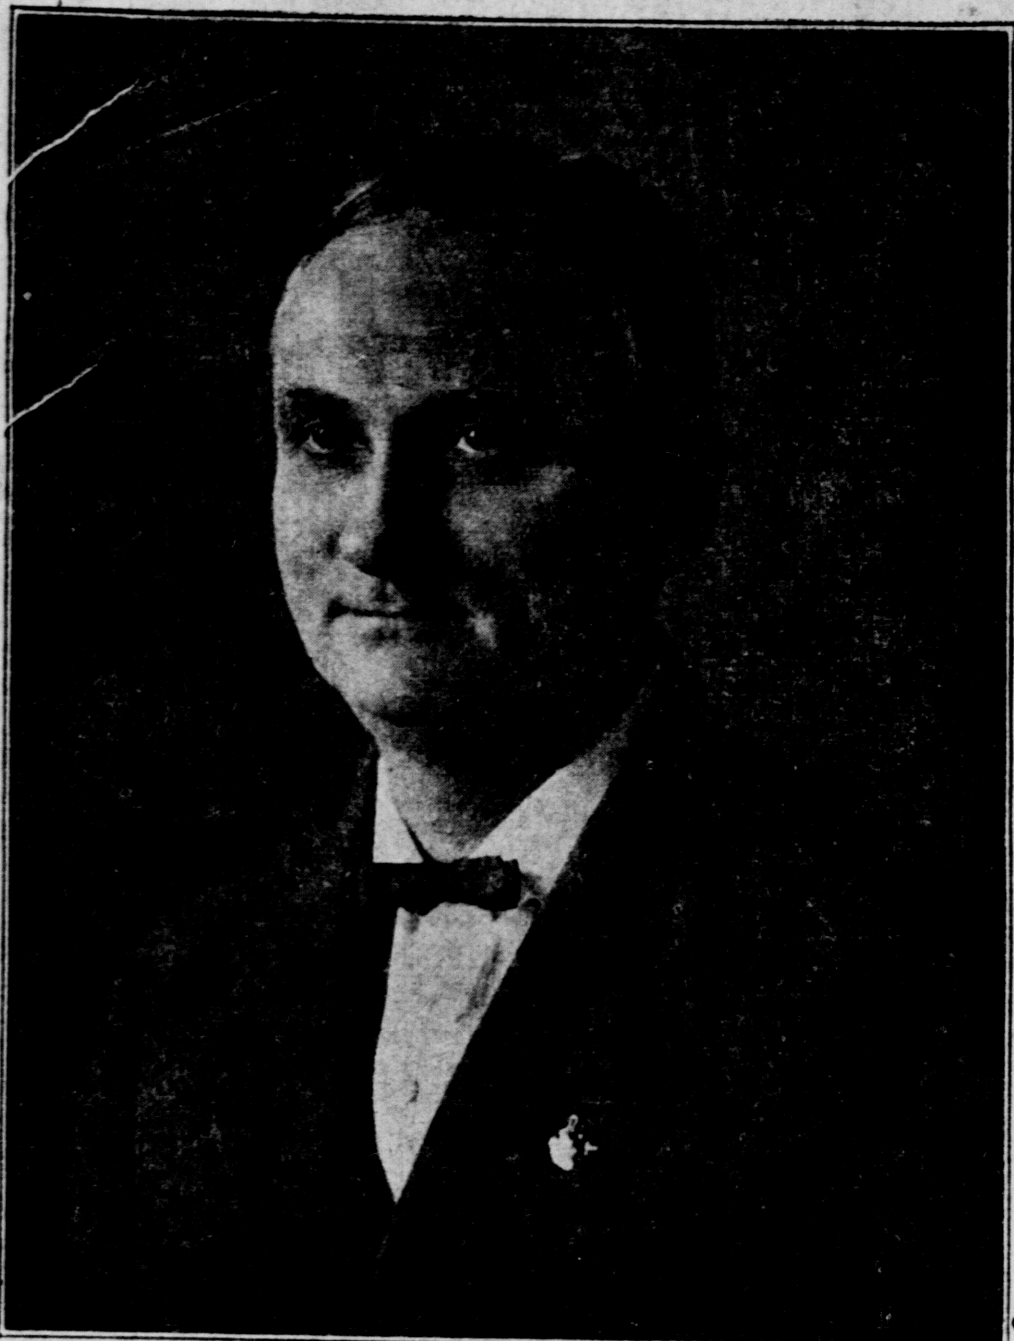

Coon Moves Jewelry Stock to New Place on East Main Street

A. D. Coon, local jeweler, who has for several years been located two doors east of the McSwain theatre, is this week moving his stock of jewelry and phonographs to the vacant store room in the Harris hotel building on East Main street.

Part of the stock has already been moved and the remainder will be in the new home by Saturday, it was said today. He plans to re-install his radio receiving set, which has been established at the old stand for several months.

The stand he will occupy now was formerly occupied by the Walker Furniture company. It adjoins the Coffee Shop, another recent addition to the Harris hotel building business houses.

Prominent Lodgeman Coming

G. W. BRUCE, Guthrie
Grand Secretary of I. O. O. F.

Prominent Odd Fellows of the state to be here next week to attend the Grand Lodge session of that body will include G. W. Bruce, grand secretary. He is expected to arrive in Ada early to attend a conference of officers before main sessions of the convention open.

EMPLOYMENT NOW IS NEAR NORMAL

Connally's Report Shows Encouraging Gain in All Industries.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27.—Employment conditions in the state approximate normal in practically all the chief lines of industry according to a recent report made by Claude E. Connally, commissioner of labor and director of federal employment service in Oklahoma, to the district director, whose headquarters are in New Orleans.

Connally replied to a set of questions which concerned conditions in the lumber, metal trades, railroad, glass and oil industries, and also applied to skilled and unskilled transient labor.

"The principal sawmills are running night and day, approximately thirty-three per cent above normal," Connally reported on the lumber industry. "A reduction of almost seventy-five per cent is anticipated, however, within the next thirty days unless shipping and transportation facilities are improved. This includes sawmill operations only."

The question was to railroad employment conditions and how the affect labor in other industries was put as follows:

"In your opinion of what are existing conditions in railroad occupations adversely affecting the employment situation in Oklahoma?"

"There can be no dependable estimate made of the extent to which the railroad controversy affects the employment situation in this state," was Connally's reply. "Any estimate would be almost altogether imaginary. The number of employees in shoprafts in Oklahoma directly affected is relatively small, approximately six thousand. But there is no disputing the fact that other lines of employment are affected, to transportation and other difficulties which the railroads are experiencing at the present time. Due to the transportation situation building construction and other operations are affected in nearly, if not all, communities."

Reporting the oil industry, covering oil fields, refineries and allied interests, Connally said: "While employers in this industry have undertaken to curtail drilling operations with the view of stabilizing the price of oil we believe the conditions in the industry are approximately normal." The transient labor question was covered in the following manner: "About normal conditions for this season of the year. For the glass industry, Connally reported, information was not available at the time the report was written.

MANY ROOMS YET NEEDED FOR MEET

Emergency Growing Worse as I. O. O. F. Convention Draws Nearer.

Fully half of the visitors expected here next week for the state grand lodge meeting of the I. O. O. F. and the state Rebekah assembly are not yet provided for in arrangement for rooms, according to a report submitted today by the committee representing local lodges in preparing for the conventions.

Daily the emergency is becoming more acute, and it is expected that in case citizens neglect to volunteer rooms, a committee will be forced to open a personal canvass of the city the latter part of this week.

At least 1,500 or 2,000 persons, some of the state's leaders in fraternal work, will be here for the meeting. Full arrangements have been made for all phases of the convention except entertainment. Because of limited hotel facilities in the city it will be necessary that rooms be volunteered in private residences. These will be paid for at the usual rate by the visitors.

Those who have rooms and will rent them during the convention have been asked to call 85-R, 986-J, or 324-J as soon as possible. Decoration of the city will open probably Saturday or Sunday. The convention starts Monday and lasts three days.

School Boy Suffers Painful Eye Injury When Hit By Weight

Edmond Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Payne of 525 East Main street, was painfully injured while playing during the noon recess at Willard school Tuesday. He was struck in the left eye by a four pound shot which pupils were putting.

Edmond was knocked unconscious by the blow and suffered a severe cut above and below the eye. Five stitches were used in sewing up the wound. He was taken to his home and is reported by his father today to be resting much better. He will again be able to attend school in a few days, it is said.

This is the second accident in the Payne family within the past few weeks. Only a short time ago, Geneva, 16 year old sister of Edmond, suffered a fractured leg and other painful injuries in a car wreck on the Ada-Allen road. She is now in a Sherman hospital recovering. Her mother is with her, and reports are that she is improving.

TWO BANDITS ARE KILLED IN FIGHT WITH BIG POSSE

Eureka Springs Citizens Engage Bank Robbers in Stiff Battle.

ALL CASH RECOVERED

Bold Men Use Cashier as Shield to Keep Crowd From Shooting.

(By the Associated Press)
EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark., Sept. 27.—Two bank bandits were killed, one fatally wounded and two others seriously shot in a running battle with citizens at noon today. They robbed the First National bank of $25,000 in money and $90,000 in bonds, all of which was recovered.

All members of the bandit gang were either shot or captured. P. G. Smith, cashier of the bank, spread the alarm by stepping on a section of the floor which was in connection with a burglar alarm. The alarmed citizens met the bandits with gun fire as they emerged from the bank with their loot, pushing before them a bank teller as a shield. The bandits returned the fire and Ernest Jordan, a jeweler whose store adjoined the bank, received severe powder burns from a bandit's pistol.

All of the dead and wounded bandits were from Cookston and Parkhill, Oklahoma. None of the citizens were wounded in the fight.

Bandits Burn Victim's Feet To find Cash

But Bartlesville Man is too Plucky to Reveal His Gold Cache.

(By the Associated Press)
BARTLESVILLE, Sept. 27.—Application of a candle blaze on the bare feet of Louis Beard, a farmer residing a mile north of Copan, Okla., until he screamed with pain, was one of the methods used by three robbers to make Beard tell where he had hidden his gold, after the bandits had entered his home early Wednesday morning and obtained only $28 which he had on his person. Two men were arrested in connection with the crime and the local authorities are looking for the third man.

Beard is alleged to be a miser and it has been the rumor for many years that he had a secret cache of gold hidden on his farm, authorities say. eGard and John Harper, an aged helper around the place, were badly beaten by the three men.

The bandits finally gave up the search and left both men bound and gagged and departed in an automobile, Beard declared. Beard cut his own bonds, freed his helper and they walked to town to notify the authorities. Clues were obtained which led to the arrest of the two men early this morning. They denied any knowledge of the affair.

Beard and Harper will report to the county jail this afternoon to identify the two men.

13,731 BILLS INTRODUCED IN CONGRESS SINCE 1921

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—More than thirteen thousand bills—13,731 to be exact—of all sorts and descriptions were introduced in the house since the 67th congress went to work in April, 1921. Clerks checking up today found that of this number only 1,057 were passed.

"Anybody can throw a bill into the Hopper," said a veteran legislator, "but it takes a wise man to put it through the mill."

Beware Paddle Brigade

College Pepsters Plan Extensive List of Stunts for Home Football Games.

College pep kings completed Tuesday night the organization of plans for perhaps the most extensive display of rooting stunts East Central has ever seen.

With prospects of becoming brighter daily for a winning football team, student leaders of the college have resolved to spring something jazzy at every game and inject real varsity spirit into every minute of intercollegiate games held here.

The Knights of the Paddle have said there shall be no campus dead heads—and they have the equipment to enforce their decree.

This organization is heralded today by students as the first real vigilance committee the college ever had and is being looked to with confidence to throw a new light upon scholastic activities of the year. Members of the football team will be charter members of "Knights of the Paddle" but the organization will be extended to include others later.

East Central students must cast dignity to the winds and get into the rooting pond whenever there is a game—whether they want to or not—the Knights have said.

Chief Bull Frog

"Mike Cassidy, old athletic star of the college, is Chief Bull Frog of the organization. "Sleepy Boyce," another student leader, is assistant Bull Frog. B. Bonham is chairman of the eligibility committee. Members of the executive committee are "Doc" Pentem and "Poison" Smith.

The organization will be assisted in its work by pep leaders Ott Harrison, Cliff Tinkle, Meaders Jones, Ruth Mount and Bernice Roach.

Friday afternoon when Ada high school goes against Okmulgee high here in the season's opening battle, Knights of the Paddle will be on the job to root for Ada. They will hold public initiation of candidates and will stage a complete program of college stunts. Later the organization will extend its work to the downtown section to encourage fans to take a more active interest.

FATHER OF BABY YET A QUESTION

Judge Will Give Verdict Saturday in Tiernan Paternity Case.

(By the Associated Press)
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 27.—With hearings ended in the case of Harry Poulin, charged by Mrs. Tiernan with the paternity of her ten months old child, persons interested in the outcome await the verdict of Judge Ducomb, which is scheduled to be announced Saturday morning. The hearings, begun more than a week ago, came to a close late yesterday.

The improbability of a woman in the position of Mrs. Tiernan being before the public, the story of her relations with another man other than her husband, unless the acts actually occurred, was emphasized by the prosecutor in summing up the case. He asserted that it had been shown that Mrs. Tiernan's sole motive in bringing the court action was to make Poulin acknowledge the parentage of his own child.

In closing their case, the defense attorney argued that the plaintiff had some ulterior motive for seeking revenge against Poulin and maintained that the prosecution had not established the baby not to be Prof. Tiernan's off-spring. They emphasized the point that Prof. Tiernan had at first accepted the child as his own.

SPECIALIST REFUSES TO MAKE BLOOD TEST

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Dr. Abrams, California specialist, has refused to make a private blood test to determine whether John Tiernan, law professor, is the father of his wife's baby boy, who Mrs. Tiernan says is the child of Harry Poulin.

Dr. Abrams said he would make a test only in connection with court procedure an athen with both Tiernan and Poulin submitting to the test.

1750 PEOPLE EAT AT LEGION PARTY

Experienced K. P.'s Work Three Hours to Feed -- Ada Multitude.

Seventeen hundred and fifty persons ate last night at the American Legion's free "chow" party.

For more than three hours, camp kitchens, operated by the city's former service men, boiled merrily on until everybody's appetite was satisfied. Original preparations were for only 750 persons and three times, kitchen police of the legion had to refill kettles with tomatoes, onions, potatoes and beans.

It was estimated that at least a thousand persons got their first contact with a mess kit, and folding handles on the "java" cups were more than a mystery to hundreds of city-bred who never had taken their coffee from anything more rustic than hand painted china.

Mayor W. H. Fisher and Mrs. Orville Snead, Red Cross secretary, headed the "slum" line when it started by the camp kitchens shortly after 7 o'clock. A detail of almost a dozen hand picked K. P.'s worked like trench diggers throughout the evening over steaming pots of savory food.

Legion officials said this morning it was the first time in years that any local organization had announced a free feed to the city and succeeded in satisfying everyone who came. More than a hundred loaves of bread were used and vast quantities of coffee, beans, tomatoes and other foods consumed.

HALE-HALSELL TO OPEN WHOLESALE HOUSE ON E. MAIN

Material was being placed on the ground today for the construction of a wholesale grocery house on East Main street adjoining the Katy railroad. Hale-Halsell grocery company will establish headquarters in the new building, supplying customers in this territory from the local house.

It will be a brick building and will cost approximately $100,000. Moving of material was started this week.

M. K. & T. railroad company has agreed to build a siding on the west side of their present outlay of tracks to accommodate the new grocery company. It will join the siding near the water tank north of the depot and will cross Main street about 100 feet west of the present tracks.

This will be one of the largest wholesale buildings in the city. Several months ago the grocery company decided to open a house here, but the location of the pierce Oil corporation gas and oil station near the spot prevented the construction of a building. The oil company was ordered to move, and is now located on the Frisco right of way east of the Frisco freight depot. Removal of the oil station was necessary before insurance companies would grant insurance on the grocery house, it was said.

GREECE PLUNGED INTO REVOLTS AS MUTINY SPREADS

CAPITAL ENDANGERED

Warships Refuse to Act on Admiralty Order; the Streets Crowded.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Sept. 27.—Confirmation of the report of King Constantine's abduction has been received by the British foreign office, it was announced this afternoon.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Sept. 27.—Greece is in the grip of a revolutionary movement.

King Constantine is reported to have abdicated.

At least part of the navy has gone against the government and several warships and transports manned by revolutionaries are believed to be advancing on the capital from the Aegean Island, where the revolt originated.

The revolutionary movement is headed by an army officer who organized the soldiers on the island off the Smyrna coast to which they were removed following their crushing defeat by the Turkish nationalists. An order for the demobilization of these troops is said to have been the cause of their mutiny.

The revolt quickly spread to the navy and many of the warships refused to answer inquiries sent out by the admiralty. An airplane appeared over Athens and showered the city with pamphlets demanding the resignation of the government and the abdication of the king. This created turmoil in the capital, and crowds surged through the streets and about the public buildings. Then a number of war vessels started for Athens.

Official circles here believe former Premier Venizelos has had no part in the revolt.

Turks Continue To Gather Troops

(By the Associated Press)
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 27.—While the cabinet at Smyrna is contemplating its reply to the allied note, the nationalists army continues concentration of troops on the Ismid and Chanak lines.

The nationalists leaders expect these concentrations to be completed by September 30, the time set for the final evacuation of refugees from Smyrna. It is considered significant here that the military governor of Smyrna has declared he cannot guarantee the lives of the Christians in Smyrna after that date. This is taken to mean that the Kemalists want to clear decks for action if the allies reject their reply.

The Sultan's cabinet met in session yesterday, and decided not to retire unless so ordered by the Kemal government.

THE PASSING OF TOM WATSON

The death of Senator Tom Watson of Georgia removes one of the most unusual characters in the public life of today. Watson was a connecting link between the Old South and the New, his youth having been spent in the stormy days of reconstruction and at a time when most of the leaders of the movements leading up to the war and the participants in that struggle were still living. It is possible that his early environment in the troubled days following the war helped to shape his character. At all events, none of the old regime was a more fearless fighter for his principles than Tom Watson. He never shunned a fight and for the greater part of his life he was in the midst of political turmoil.

Watson first became nationally prominent in politics in 1890 when he was elected to congress from Georgia. In several states the Farmers Alliance had gained such strength that it controlled the elections, overturning the old machines and establishing a new order. It was on this wave that Watson rose to prominence. The populist party was in process of being formed and when congress met and organized in December, 1891, Watson was the acknowledged leader of the group of eight or ten in the lower house. He was defeated for re-election and was also unsuccessful in 1894. In 1896 he was the choice of his party for the vice-presidency and later for president. Finally, after thirty years in private life he was elected to the senate.

Although always more or less active in political affairs, Watson was a writer of note and for a time was on the lecture platform. Part of his work consisted in trying to preserve to the nation historical facts concerning the part the South had played in the history of the country, much of which had been disregarded by historical writers. His history of France was probably his masterpiece and will be read for many years to come.

In recent years Watson wrote extensively against socialism and Catholicism and made many bitter enemies thereby. On one occasion his writings on Catholicism caused charges to be filed against him in federal court but he was acquitted.

Whatever one may find in Watson's views and actions to criticize, all must respect him for his courage of convictions and his daring to fight a battle single handed when he thought the occasion demanded it. There was no blot on his character or reputation and he always fought on the side of the common people and befriended those who were most in need of a champion who was really sincere. Watson cannot be classed as a really great man but he left his impress on the times in which he lived and the defects in his makeup are lost in the admiration one must feel for his many highly commendable qualities.

To Senator Tom Watson belongs much of the credit for rural mail delivery. During his term in congress he succeeded in getting a small appropriation with which to try the experiment. The postmaster general regarded the plan as so impracticable that he refused to put it into operation. However, it attracted enough attention to be kept alive until the next administration came in. It was then tried out on an appropriation of $30,000 and proved so popular that it has become one of the most important features of the postal service.

The Republicans have had two opportunities to show the world what they could do as reconstructionists. After the Civil war they just about ruined the South, their methods doing even more to devastate the country than did four years of invasion and warfare. In 1920 they were given a chance to reconstruct the United States and wind up the details of the war. Their record is before the people and no comment is necessary. Now they ask for a chance to reconstruct Oklahoma.

It is a bad mistake to underestimate the other fellow, as Carpentier, the French pugilist, found to his cost a few days ago. He went up against an African champ, thinking he had a soft snap and began to show off. The negro knocked the stuffing out of him in short order thereby putting the swaggering Frenchmen into the class of has-beens.

"Speech is silver and silence is golden, but the way some folks spend speech one would think it was copper or some baser metal," observes the Fort Worth Record. Or perhaps to fully describe some people we might say German marks or Russian rubles in giving some idea of the profuseness of their stock in trade.

That there is plenty of money in the hands of timid people afraid to put it to work is evidenced by the recent sale of three and three-fourths per cent treasury certificates. The 10th reserve district was assigned $8,000,000 but more than $15,000,000 was subscribed in spite of the low rate of interest.

MUST HAVE BEEN A BOOMERANG!

The Forum of the Press

The A. E. F.'s Battle of the Wilderness.

(American Legion Weekly)

So much was going on four years ago this month, so many fronts were flashing into activity, so definitely had the tide of battle turned in favor of the Allied Armies, that it is doubtful if anyone save the man who was actually in it even now understands to the full the significance of the Battle of the Meuse-Argonne. St. Mihiel was a romp. Tactically a complete success, it was over and done within forty-eight hours, with every objective reached. Sharp fighting broke out on the new line established by the victory, but there is nothing sensational in a stabilizing front, and here, too, only the man who was left in to hold it appreciates what an evil sector it became after September 13th.

The same is true of the Argonne. A splendid jump-off, followed by misty, muddy weeks of tooth-and-nail battling and inch-by-inch gains—that was the Argonne. Meanwhile the French and British were counting their advance by the kilometer, dashing ahead into ground that had been in hostile hands from the start of the war. Several reasons were responsible for their splendid, victorious dash. Their morale was high; they knew that Jerry had his wind up; at last, after a grinding Argonne of their own that had lasted more than four years, they were in the open again. But making their advance possible more than any other condition was the fact that the enemy was to hold on anywhere, it must be in the Argonne. Elsewhere he might yield ground lavishly; between the river and the forest ground must not be yielded. To give in here was to acknowledge defeat.

That is why October of 1918 will go down in history as the bloodiest month in the annals of American arms.

One comparison will suffice. It is supplied by Colonel Leonard P. Ayres, Chief of the Statistics Branch of the General Staff during the war. In "The War With Germany: A Statistical Summary," he declares:

In some ways the Meuse-Argonne offers an interesting resemblance to the Battle of the Wilderness, fought from May 5 to 12, 1864, in the Civil War. Both were fought over a terrain covered with tangled woods and underbrush. The Wilderness was regarded as a long battle, marked by slow progress, against obstinate resistance, with very heavy casualties. Here the similarity ends. The Meuse-Argonne lasted six times as long as the Battle of the Wilderness. Twelve times as many troops were engaged as were on the Union side. They used in the action ten times as many guns and fired about one hundred times as many rounds of artillery ammunition. The actual weight of the ammunition fired was greater than that used by the Union forces during the entire Civil War. Casualties were perhaps four times as heavy as among the Northern troops in the Battle of the Wilderness. The Battle of the Meuse-Argonne was beyond compare the greatest ever fought by American troops, and there have been few, if any, greater battles in the history of the world.

Throwing Sand in the Wheels.
(Harlow's Weekly)
Interference with the operation of regularly constituted officers has long been known to be the source of substantial evil. Nevertheless in recent years it has become the fashion to elect officers, and then to permit variously constituted self-elected boards and committees and individuals to interfere with these operations and to substitute for the judgment of those persons under oath to conserve the interests of the people the private judgment of persons carrying on such obligations.

This method has been to some extent fostered by public officers themselves. In their attempts to avoid or to divide the responsibility which necessarily devolves upon them by virtue of their position, we have had boards and commissions and even high executive officers invite into the public tasks individuals who had no legal standing, and whose chief function was to assist the officers in avoidance of criticism. It is not to be wondered at that other active people, following such an example, felt perfectly free to inject themselves and their opinions into the orderly operations of various governmental functions.

Sometimes these self elected officers accomplish good. Sometimes their opinions and their actions do supply a deterrent to those public officers who might be disposed to operate for purposes other than the public good. But most of the time they merely operate as sand in the machine; they furnish friction and slow down the machinery with little or no practical gain accomplished. And frequently when they are dealing with a situation which is delicately balanced, they do very substantial harm by such interference.

Oklahoma City schools at this time furnish a glaring example of the result of such interference. Some months ago the city of Oklahoma voted an issue of school bonds for the construction of badly needed accommodations for its rapidly growing school population. Certain local citizens, whose motives cannot be impugned, decided that the will of the people as expressed at that election was not the correct thing; that the school board was disposed to spend too much money. As a result, they have asserted their opinion in the courts and have been enabled to hold up the bond issue.

The consequences of this action is easily visible to everybody who has contact with the public schools of Oklahoma City. The crowded situation in these schools is a disgrace to the city. Thousands of children in Oklahoma City are undergoing very real hazard to their health and even their lives because of the makeshifts to which the school board has had to resort in order to furnish any accommodations for them. The fire hazard in the lives of many of these students is a source of apprehension to hundreds of parents and may grow into a veritable night mare if the real hazard is fully comprehended. But nobody can do anything about it, the hands of the legal representative of the people have been absolutely tied through the court's action by these self elected representatives.

There are many examples not so glaring as this. In all probability, careful examination in instances of interference with the duly constituted authorities will show that the result of such interference is decidedly harmful rather than helpful.

Advice is one thing. Any sound officer will welcome it. But control of an office, no matter how small or how great, by individuals who have never been legally clothed with the authority and who have never taken the oath of office to fulfill the obligations, is a different thing. It is irrational and it carried too far, can easily have the effect of paralyzing regular government, as has been done in this Oklahoma City case.

McSwain Theatre

"The Greatest Love," a new Spectacular announced for today at the McSwain theatre, with Vera Gordon in the stellar role, is said to possess not only human interest to an unusually high degree, but a baffling mystery which holds up the suspense of the story until the end.

Mother love is the dominating feature of the picture, and the rise of the little immigrant family from poverty to power in the new land of opportunity, later followed by tragedy and humiliation, constitute a cross section of life which might be met just around any corner of a big city.

The supporting cast includes many well known players, among others being Bertram Marburgh, Fannie Shelton, Hugh Huntley, Wm. H. Tooker, Ray Dean, Donald Hall, Sally Crute, Jessie Simpson, Bobby Watson.

Miss Elsie Holmes, connected with Washington's state fishery, is considered an expert in her line.

MANY AUSTRIAN KIDDIES SPEND SUMMER ABROAD

(By the Associated Press)

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 27.—Large numbers of Austrian children, particularly little boys and girls from Vienna, have been spending their summers in Denmark as guests of every class of the Danish community. But it has been distinctly understood between the Danish organizations arranging these charity visits and the Danish authorities, that no child should be allowed to stay in Denmark more than six months unless special permission for a prolonged stay were given.

Many of these Austrian children have grown very fond of their Danish foster-parents, and vice versa, and the leave-takings at the railway stations, when these children are sent back to Austria have in many instances been poignant and pitiful. The youngsters did not hide their sorrow and despair at going away.

Little Mitzi Wolf-Schickinger is nine, and the daughter of an Austrian colonel who was killed on the Italian frontier during the war. Her mother was left to shift for Mitzi and herself on a pension that hardly covered the cost of rent, and she was happy when she got an opportunity of sending Mitzi on a long holiday to kind and hospitable people in Denmark. The latter were so well-connected that they managed to obtain permission for Mitzi to stay for a whole year. But when the local authorities could do no more, the foster-parents were told that Mitzi had to return to Vienna.

STOMACH TROUBLES

Indiana Lady Had Something Like Indigestion Until She Took Black-Draught, Then Got All Right.

Seymour, Ind.—"Some time ago I had a sick spell, something like indigestion," writes Mrs. Clara Peacock, of Route 6, this place. "I would get very sick at the stomach, and spit or vomit, especially in the mornings."

"Then I began the use of Thedford's Black-Draught, after I had tried other medicines. The Black-Draught relieved me more than anything that I took, and I got all right."

"I haven't found anything better than Black-Draught when suffering from trouble caused by constipation. It is easy and sure. Can be taken in small doses or large as the case calls for."

When you have sick stomach, indigestion, headache, constipation, or other disagreeable symptoms, take Black-Draught to help keep your system free from poison.

Thedford's Black-Draught is made from purely vegetable ingredients, acts in a gentle, natural way, and has no bad after-effects. It may be safely taken by young or old.

Get a package of Black-Draught today. Insist on the genuine Thedford's.

TWO VILLAGES END DRAMATIC FIGHT ON ROAD

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27.—
A dramatic struggle of several years duration in which two small country towns fought for the location of a St. Louis-San Francisco railroad station was ended on an order of the state corporation commission recently promulgated.

This order reverses a former decision.

On Aug. 9, 1821, Moon, located in McCurtain county in the most remote southeastern corner of the state, was the winner. Today Bok-homa wins. The two towns are little more than a mile apart.

"They are described as 'small settlements built around sidings.'"
A directory gives the population at Bokhoma as 7106, but Moon is not listed.

Bokhoma had the station. Moon wanted it, and filed a petition with the corporation commission purporting to show that the greater number of persons would be benefited
if the station were moved to Moon.

Inhabitants of the town raised $500 to build the station and decided a plot of ground for that purpose at the railroad.

So the order went out more than a year ago, to move the station.

Then Bokhoma citizens went to work. They signed a petition, as did also farmers near there. They built a hotel, graded the streets, had lot sales.

They had their inning before the commission last week.

Result, the order for removal of the station to Moon was "set aside and held for naught" by a new order, because "it appears that an effort is being made to build a permanent townsite at Bokhoma."

The $500 Moon raise and the deed to the land for a depot were ordered returned to the town.

Tree Remains as Memorial to Man Who Died in War

(By the Associated Press)

URBANA, Ill., Sept. 27.—G. J.
(Jake) Stahl, famous manager of the Boston Americans in 1912, president of the Washington National bank in Chicago and a hero of the world war, who died in Los Angeles, has one monument which he created himself and which college tradition has preserved.

Back in 1903 Illinois and Michigan met on Illinois field for the conference championship. Michigan had a slight edge on the Illinois nine and appeared to be an easy winner until Stahl, who was catching for Illinois, drove the ball high over the center-fielder's head into the branches of a young elm tree growing at the north end of what is now the football field. The bases were full at the time. Since then the tree has been carefully preserved by students and is known as Jake Stahl's tree.

His death called to the attention of Illinois' stadium officials a problem which they had not previously considered. What is to be done with Jake Stahl's tree? The new stadium will be at least a mile from the old field and the tree is now too large to be easily transplanted.

Students and alumni will never consent to abandoning the tree with the field and every one agrees that something must be done. It is possible that a branch from the old tree will be planted in the new memorial stadium.

ASHER ROAD WILL BE IMPROVED BY WORK OF COUNTY

Plans of the Good Road Motor club, through the efforts of its president and board of directors, to get some work done on the Ada-Asher road leading to the Canadian river bridge, are developing rapidly and will be completed within a few days, it was announced today.

Two miles of heavy sand just south of the bridge must be clayed and considerable grading done before the road will be in good condition, it was said. About two thousand dollars will be required for this work, but the club was confident of being able to secure it through the assistance of county commissioners, who are also willing to do all possible to open the road again to traffic.

Pontotoc county is co-operating with Pottawatomie county in getting the road put in first class condition. For several months sand in the river valley has made it almost impossible for cars to get through.

KELLOGG MAN HERE TO ADVERTISE CORN FLAKES

F. G. Peterson, representing the Kellogg Toasted Corn Flake Company of Battle Creek, Michigan, has been in the city for several days, distributing samples of the Kellogg products to the various homes of the city and co-operating with the local grocers in helping them connect up with the big advertising campaign this company is putting out.

The Kellogg company has a unique system for co-operating with retail dealers. Instead of sending around simply salesmen, this company sends men trained in mercantile problems and these assist the dealers in many ways.

The campaign in Ada has been completed.

LOSS OF WATSON
LEAVES GEORGIA
WITHOUT LEADER

(By the Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Sept. 27.—In the hills and valleys of Georgia, where men follow the furrow to earn their daily bread, an estimated 50,000 followers of United States Senator Tom Watson, who died yesterday in Washington, today are leaderless.

Tomorrow afternoon, in the little village of Thomson, the last rites will be said over the remains of the great chieftain.

Right or wrong, these "Tom Watson men" have followed their leader at all times during the past three decades, according to election returns. Observers are almost unanimous in their opinion that Watson's influence will live long after his body has entered the grave and that his teaching will be adhered to in selecting his successor.

The chairman of the state democratic executive committee has the authority to call a primary to nominate a candidate for the unexpired term in the general elections.

BETTER RATE ON CITY INSURANCE NOW IN PROSPECT

James A. Atkinson, James Trulove and Walter Klein of Oklahoma City, representing the Oklahoma Inspection Bureau, are here to inspect the city with a view of giving a better fire insurance rating. It will be to the interest of all business men to keep their premises as clean as possible and make the fire hazard as little as can be done, while these men are here, according to information obtained from them.

It will take about three weeks to complete the inspection. The new rating, provided one is made, will take effect about January 1, 1923.

MUST KEEP CITY POSTED ON WHO RENTS HOUSES

Property owners who are renting houses must keep the city water department posted as to who is occupying their property.

This was the announcement of water department officials this morning. Trouble is being encountered in keeping rented house

many of the renters moving, it was said.

In order to keep the service of the department at its best and to avoid confusion, property owners will be required to notify the department when changes are made in the occupation of such property.

Mrs. Patton Wins Match

Mrs. J. H. Patton yesterday won the ladies open golf championship of Ada from Mrs. Dr. Cummins by turning in a score of 116 while Mrs. Cummins was making one of Mrs. A. W. Parker, one of the runners-up refereed the match.

Going out Mrs. Patton's score was 59, while Mrs. Cummins was 62.
Coming in the score was 57-67.
Mrs. Patton used the Krolite ball while Whit Fentem, winner of the men's open championship, used a

TEXAS DAIRYMAN NOW BELIEVED TO BE SLAIN

(By the Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Sept. 27.—Scores of men who searched the surrounding country yesterday and last night had failed today to disclose any trace as to the whereabouts or fate of Arthur Stinson, prominent dairyman, who disappeared from his home near here Monday. Officers still cling to the belief that he had met foul play in the view of the fact that the abandoned Stinson automobile was found yesterday with blood stains on the seat.

U. S. Torpedo Planes to Make Mock Attack Upon Fleet Warships

(By the Associated Press)

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 27.—While four Atlantic fleet battleships and more than a score of destroyers awaited the "attack" as a secret rendezvous somewhere off the Virginia capes early today, a squadron of naval torpedo planes received the final tuning up at the base before taking the air in their attempt to locate and "destroy" the surface fleet.

The result of the maneuver is expected to have an important bearing on the future development of torpedo planes as naval weapons.

Work has begun on the first of a chain of 20 hotels for motorists, extending from Vancouver, British Columbia, through Washington, Oregon, California and Nevada.

BOGUS PEARLS OF JAPAN DEFY REAL EXPERT TESTING

(By the Associated Press)

PARIS, Sept. 27.—Owners in Paris of valuable strings of pearls have been thrown into something like consternation by the published opinion of Dr. Louis Boutan, professor of science at the University of Bordeaux and an expert in pearls, that he and other pearl experts are unable to distinguish between real pearls and those artificially grown by the Japanese. The statement of Dr. Boutan, made at the French Academy of Sciences, removes the last hope concerning Japanese pearls, which have been grown in quantity since M. Mik-moto, the Japanese scientist made his discovery.

Pearls normally are grown by accident, through a fine grain of sand entering the shell of the oyster. The white substance, called a pearl, grows inside the oyster and is a secretion caused by the effort of the shellfish to get rid of the foreign substance. Mikimoto conceived the idea of opening oysters and in-serting the foreign substance, or grain of sand, that formerly came there accidentally.

Since Japanese began to grow pearls artificially, there has been much discussion as to whether these new pearls would affect the value

It's toasted. This one extra process
gives a delightful quality that can not be duplicated

of the accidental grown pearls. The only difference would appear to be in the pearl seed, or grain of sand, and now it is claimed by Dr. Bout-tan that even this difference cannot be detected.

The statement of Dr. Boutan is categorical: "If I did not have a certificate of origin when sections of pearls were shown me, pearls cut into sections for testing purposes, I would not be able to say which pearl is artificial."

AMERICANS HOLD EDGE ON SERIES

Nationals Nosed Out Seven Times Since 1905 When Contest Opened.

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 27. — Since 1905, when the former National Baseball Commission was created, a post-season series has been held between the teams which won the championships of their respective leagues, resulting in 10 victories for the American and seven for the National.

Whether this World's Series supremacy denoted a better brand of baseball playing in the younger league has been debated every winter in the Old Stove League with facts dug from the record books to prove and disprove the same as, sections—and, as former Vice-president "Tom" Marshall used to say, "with the same result and no casualties."

As fantastic as it appears in print the Boston Red Sox, rivals of all who are dependent, hold the palm for world's series honors, being the only club that has won the highest prize in baseball four times and one of the three in the annals of the classic that have won it two times in success.

And more fantastic, so it seems to the fans of "Sleepy Town," the Philadelphia Athletics, cellar champions for seven years, are the Boston Americans' loudest disputant having won, back in the days of "The Million Dollar infield," three World's Series, two of them in succession.

White Sox a Memory
The other American League club to humble the National League Champions twice without intermission are the Chicago White Sox, now a gilded memory of the "suspension" days. Cleveland, with Tris Speaker speaking is the only other club of the younger circuit to win a World's Series.

All the American League clubs except Washington and St. Louis, neither the St. Louis teams ever won a pennant have been champions of their ballclub.

In the National League five clubs New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Boston and Cincinnati, have won premier honors, the first two named twice each and the last three once each. The St. Louis Cardinals are the only National League team that never has participated in the biggest athletic event in the country.

A peculiar incident of World's Series is that seven of the 17 times it has been played the winner took four games out of five—the best four out of seven to win; three times it has been four to two games; and only twice have the winners shut out the losers in all four games in the 1907 series. The trait managed to tie the game. The only other tie game was in 1912 when the Red Sox beat the Giants, winning four games to one.

A table showing world series winners and losers with the games won, lost and tied, follows:

EARLIEST MOVIE SHOWN 500 YEARS B. C. TO CHINESE

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Sept. 27. —The earliest idea of a moving picture was recorded in the time of Confucius, the Chinese philosopher who lived 500 years before Christ. At least this was the deduction drawn from his studies into the question by Will Day, a well-known figure in the English film world, who has exhibited in London a collection of relics and machines tracing the growth of the moving picture from the first primitive idea to its present form.

The "shadow shows" of the time of Confucius are the first of all known endeavors to present animated pictures. From this early time, however, there was a long period of inactivity in development, for the next record of progressive achievement is found in 1646, when Athanasius Kircher published a book in Latin entitled "Ars Magna, nalyus et Unbrae" in which a description and illustration is given of a moving picture which the writer had evolved with mirrors and a tallow candle for illuminant.

Included in the collection is the original disc which "Edward Murybridge used to settle the controversy between two American millionaires on the Palo Alto race course as to whether the four feet of a trotting horse were off the ground at the same time.

The experiments which Murybridge carried on is said to have cost the University of Pennsylvania 40,000 pounds, but the fact was proved that a horse did actually lift all four feet simultaneously.

The deepest place in the ocean yet found is near Mindanao, Philippine Islands, 32, 088 feet.

Little Travelers on U. S. Liners get Health building exercises.

Kiddies in "Gym" of S. S. George Washington

New York
A sea voyage is a health investment, providing the traveler avails himself or herself of the opportunities for strengthening stamina and awakening jaded organs to their normal functioning, according to the supervising surgeon of the United States Lines. The reports of the surgeons on the various vessels composing the fleet are indicative of the desire of American travelers to obtain full health benefits from the voyage to Europe.

The officials of the big line, in keeping with many innovations recently installed, are seeking to make the sea voyage a health restorer and body builder. The officials maintain that in the course of a trans-Atlantic crossing the traveler by sincere and systematic application to a course of exercise will step ashore a renovated being.

The United States Lines, in keeping with its health policy, has appointed aboard the larger vessels of its fleet gymnasium attendants who are experts in helping folk to better health through indulgence in proper exercise. All the passengers, from the children up, may avail themselves of the instructions and advice of the gymnasium attendants, and every trip finds more and more voyagers taking advantage of the health investment offered them by the line.

Children travelling on the vessels are quick to take advantage of the gymnasium attractions, and are formed into classes in which they are given setting-up exercises and are instructed in the use of some of the more mild forms of the developing machines. The children are taught how to breathe properly and are set out on long walks around the decks. Not only are the little ones greatly benefited by the exercise, but they are kept amused, giving their elders an opportunity for games and social affairs that might otherwise be denied them. Parents are warmly appreciative of the health training given their little ones, for they realize that the idea of proper exercise once instilled in the youthful mind will ever remain.

Giants Won Their Name Through Years of Phenomenal Triumphs

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 27. —"Giants in action as well as in stature," mused old Jim Mutrie, one day more than a quarter of a century ago as he sat observing the New York team, then an aggregation of six footers, stride to victory as easily as a fairy book man wearing seven-league boots would win a marathon race.

Ever since they have been the "Giants"—professionally, competitively and financially, Jim was the "Daddy of the Giants" and had a right to attach a moniker to his figurative progeny, but when he uttered his now famous phrase he did it out of simple admiration. A reporter setting near him usurped the ministerial function and did the baptizing.

The Giants are now 49 years old. Mutrie brought the club into existence in 1823 by inducing John B. Day, a rabid fan of the sideboard days, to finance his idea. Jim took the management and played the first seasons on the old Polo Grounds, then on Fifth Avenue, gaining admittance to the National League in its initial year by replacing the Troy team.

No Substitutes
On that "nine," figuratively and actually a "nine" with no substitute pitchers nor catchers, were "Buck Ewing," Mickey Welch, Roger Connor, Pat Gillespie and Ed Haskins, all big muscular men. Mutrie remained as manager until Day sold his interests to Cornelius Van Cott in 1893. Van Cott didn't stick long, disposing of the franchise in 1895 after the club had finished fifth in 1894.

Andrew Freedman was the next owner, retaining control for eight years, but the club was unsuccessful, finishing in the second division in every year except 1897. In his eighth-year span Freedman had eleven managers, including George Davis, Jack Doyle, Harvey Wal-kins, Arthur Irwin, Bill Joyce, Captain A. C. Anson, John B. Day, Fred Hoey, Buck Ewing, George Smith and Horace Fogel.

John Joseph McGraw, "Napoleon of Baseball," came to the helm in 1902 after he had lost both his heart and head in the old Baltimore Orioles, and finished second his first year. John T. Brush, builder of the present imposing edifice, sometimes called the Brush Stadium, was the owner then.

The following year McGraw's team won the pennant but refused to play the Boston Americans for the World's Championship. The refusal led to the formation of the former National Commission in the following year and it at once made mandatory a series of contests for the supremacy of the world. The Giants won the pennant again the next year and defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, four games to one, for the title.

Harry Hempstead, in 1911, succeeded his father in law, John T. Brush, as head of the club, and six years later gave McGraw a new contract which included stock in the operating company. Two years later Charles A. Stoneman, Francis McQuade and McGraw purchased the club from the Brush estate and Stoneman became the president.

SUPERIOR BRAND OF FOOTBALL TO COME TO FRONT

(By the Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27. —Football of a better brand than ever will be played on the Pacific Coast this fall, according to gridiron chiefs and observers. All agree that the season promises to be the greatest in the athletic history in the far west.

Two teams, the University of Idaho and the University of Southern California, will play in the Pacific Coast Conference for the first time this season, they having been added to the circuit last winter. The other six conference schools are the University of Washington, University of California, Stanford University, University of Oregon, Washington State College and the Oregon Agricultural College.

Most of the conference teams this

Pimples Keep Young Men Down!

They Make Women, Too, a Puzzle!
How S. S. S. Stops Skin
Eruptions Positively.

Pimples and skin eruptions have a price—you pay for every pustule, black-head and pimple on your face. Pimples reduce prestige and prevent prosperity. Your heart may be gold, but who wants to kiss eruptions? Pimples don't look like the owners of anything. Pimples women, too, are puzzles, with no prospects and no power. Young men and women, here's the positive way out. Physics and purgatives will fail. What you need is a scientific blood-cleanser. S. S. S. is one of the most powerful destroyers of blood impurities. You can prove this in a short time. S. S. S. has been passed on by a jury of millions of people just like yourself. It is considered one of the most powerful vegetable blood-purifiers and flesh-builders in existence. That's why you hear of so many underweight people putting on lost flesh in a hurry, why you hear of so many rheumatics being freed from this scourge, with S. S. S. Start today with S. S. S. and see your face clear and your skin get ruddier, your flesh firmer. It will give you a boost in your career. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

REAL BARBECUE

Beginning Wednesday (tomorrow) we will have real barbecue ready at all hours of the day. This beef is barbecued in a vat specially built for the purpose, and is the only vat of the kind in the city.

Real, juicy, beef barbecue, with that delicious gravy which makes it so good, cooked over live oak coals.

You can buy barbecue here almost as cheap as you can buy the raw beef elsewhere.

Let us fix you up a bucket and we know you will come for more.

ADULTERY PRELIMINARY OPENS THIS AFTERNOON

Preliminary hearing of Ed Perry and Alice King, of the Steedman community, charged with adultery, was scheduled to open this afternoon before Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown. The complaint was signed by Mack King, husband of one of the defendants. Both are on bond.

The hearing originally was set for 9 o'clock this morning but was delayed because witnesses for the state were unable to reach the court room on time.

Paving Resolution No. 12-2

A resolution adopting specifications and estimates of quantities and cost for the paving with concrete and otherwise improving of street improvement district No. 12, same being west main street from the west end of present pavement at the Santa Fe railroad company track to a line ten feet west of the East side of Bluff avenue together with street intersections on the above described street in the City of Ada, Pontotoc County, Oklahoma.

Be it resolved by the Board of Commissioners of the City of Ada, Pontotoc County, Oklahoma:

First: That, acting under the instructions of the Board of Commissioners, the Engineer has made the necessary surveys and has prepared complete and accurate specifications and estimates of quantities and cost of the improvement hereinafter described, which specifications, show the widths of the paving, and which specifications are hereby approved and ordered filed with the City Clerk of the City of Ada, Oklahoma.

Second: That it is necessary to permanently improve said portion of street as set out in the caption of this resolution, which is hereby designated Street Improvement District No. 12 of the City of Ada, Oklahoma, by paving, grading, draining and otherwise improving the same in accordance with such approved plans, specifications, and estimates of cost thereof, so filed with the City Clerk.

Third: That if the owners of more than one half (1/2) in area of the lots and tracts of land liable to assessment to pay for such improvements shall not within fifteen (15) days after the last publication of this resolution file with the City Clerk their protest in writing against such improvement, then the Board of Commissioners shall cause such improvement to be made and contracted for, and shall levy assessments for the payment thereof against such lots and tracts of land liable to assessment to pay for such improvements, as provided for in Sections 608 to 646, Article XII, Chapter 10, of the Revised Laws of Oklahoma, 1910, and amendments thereto.

Fourth: That this resolution shall be published in six consecutive issues of the Ada Evening News, a daily newspaper published and of general circulation in said city.

Fifth: All resolutions or parts of resolutions in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed.

Passed and approved this 19th day of September, 1922.

LEAGUE CHAMPS READY TO ISSUE SERIES TICKETS

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Swamped by applications for world series tickets, the Giants today began accepting requests for the National League "home games" at the Polo Grounds, including the opening contests. The Yanks, although they have not yet definitely clinched the American League championship, also were being besieged by applications but they are being held awaiting the actual winning of the pennant.

Prices for the series are the same as a year ago, ranging from $1.10 for bleacher seats to $6.60 for box reservations for single games.

OKLAHOMAN HELD WITH TWO MORE FOR TAXI FARE

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Paying a taxi driver with a bogus bill caused the loss of sleep and arrest of three young men who lived in a fashionable apartment in the art colony. One of the trio gave the name of Harry Shannon, Oklahoma City. They were routed from their beds when the taxi driver showed the police a raised $1.00 bill given him in settlement of their fare. In the search which followed the police found a number of similar bills and two automatics.

G. A. R. VETERANS REST FROM HARD REUNION HIKING

(By the Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Sept. 27.—After two days of great annual parades, veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, who are holding their 56th annual encampment here, planned to take advantage of an afternoon with no scheduled activities to rest from the weariness of the marching and of the two days preceding.

All the veterans expected to be restored by the relaxation to participate in the annual camp fire to be held tonight. General Lewis Pulcher, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army, will address his command at tonight's meeting. He will be followed by Hanford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion.

ANOTHER ADA CASE

It proves that there's a way out for many suffering Ada folks. Just another report of a case in Ada. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Ada with Doan's Kidney Pills.

F. M. Jones, 315 N. 13th St., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a fine kidney remedy. Probably, from the drinking water here, my kidneys became badly disordered. My back, just over my hips ached steadily and the kidney secretions were discolored. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, I began using them and they surely helped me a lot. When I have used them since I have always had the desired relief."

The above statement was given on February 27, 1917 and on May 2, 1921 Mr. Jones added: "I have the same good word for Doan's Kidney Pills as when I formerly recommended them. I take Doan's whenever I have occasion to use a kidney medicine."

Price 60 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Jones had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Fans Rid Bedrooms of All Mosquitoes Scientist Learns

(By the Associated Press) CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—If you are subjected to boring mosquitoes, a home remedy is offered which tests have proven is more effective than swatting and other methods of extermination.

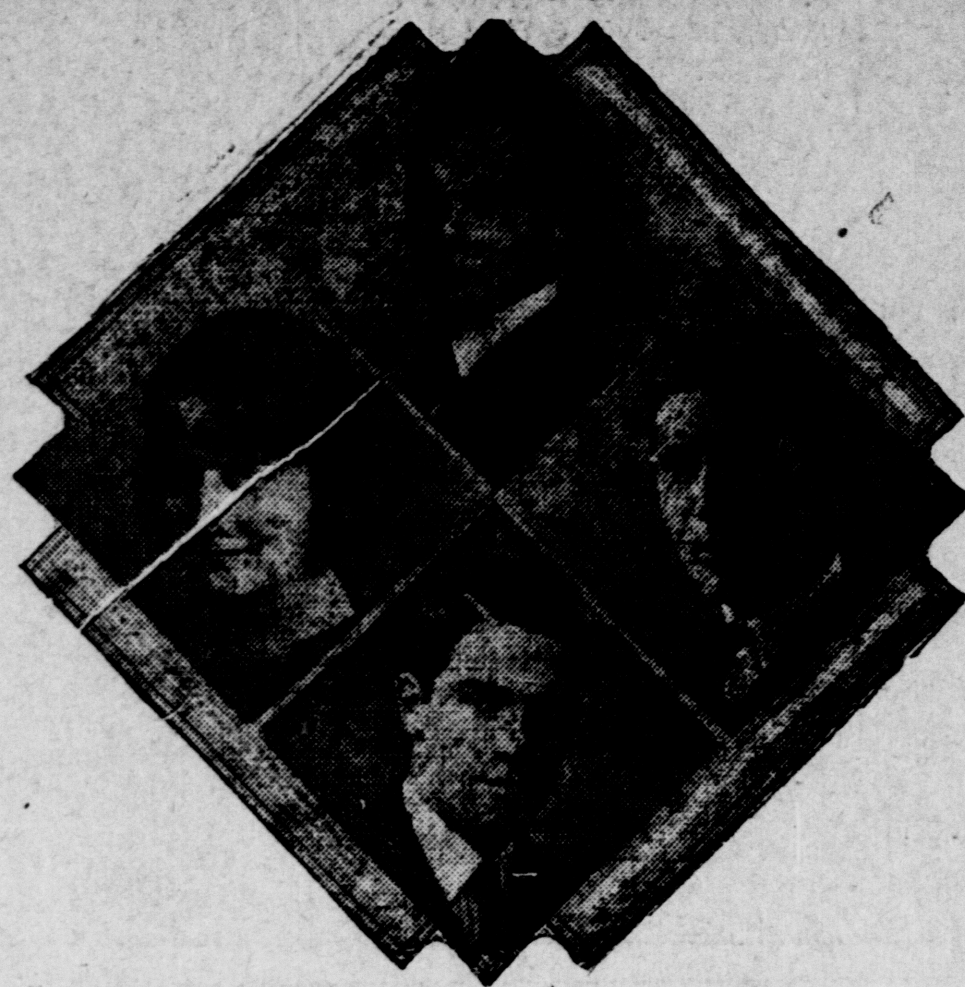

When bothered in your bedroom at night, remove a screen from the window, place an electric fan inside the room about six feet from the window facing it and turn on the current.

The stiff breeze will draw the mosquitoes into its path and will be too strong for them to repel. They will be blown from the room and will be unable to fight their way back against the air current. In a short time the entire room will be cleared of the insects.

This method was devised by a Western Electric engineer after watching the method used to remove the last traces of air from vacuum tubes used in radio.

Fifty new rubber firms were established in the United Kingdom during the war.

NORMAN—(Special)—Here is the "Big Four" of the University of Oklahoma student association this year.

In them are tied up all the responsibility, the drudgery and the leadership, in short, all that goes to make for a successful year for the student association for 1922-23. "The Short-Pants Freshie," or "Bobby" is the title that still hangs over Robert J. Bell, law junior, McAlester, who is president of the student association this year.

Pauline McKinney, law sophomore, Okemah is the secretary and secretary of the Eudolphian literary society last year, secretary of the freshman law class and a member of Kappa Bar. She is a member of Phi Mu Gamma, honorary dramatic society and Gamma Phi Beta, social sorority.

James H. "Tarz" Marsh, arts and sciences senior, Ft. Worth, Texas, holds the purse strings and is the third of the "Big Four" group.

Almer S. "Mike" Monroney, arts and sciences junior, Oklahoma City was elected editor of the Oklahoma Daily and he's engaged in letting all the news leak out through the columns of the student newspaper.

All in Who's Who. Each one of these students is in the who's who class at the University and is a leader in student activities and organizations.

Bell created quite a talk when he came to the university in the fall of 1917 in short pants. No one ever suspected that Bobby, as he was universally known, would ever "set the school on fire," but Bobby had the gift that nations have fallen for—he was a silver-tongued orator in the finest sense of the word. In his sophomore year he was elected president of the oratorical council and in the same year was elected to membership in the student council.

Nineteen twenty and twenty-one found him president of the Young Democrats' club and now he has a string of activities after his name as long, some say, as the Mississippi river.

Bell is enrolled in the combined courses of arts and sciences and law, and will receive his A. B. and LL.B. degrees in 1924. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta, social fraternity and Phi Alpha Delta, legal fraternity. In his sophomore year he made Mystic Keys, honorary sophomore fraternity and now is a member of Chi Chi Chi, honorary junior senior organization. Blue Pencil, honorary writer.

Two Baseball Letters. Besides football he holds two baseball letters. Marsh is a member of Kappa Sigma, social fraternity and Mystic Keys, sophomore organization.

Monroney, last but not least, is one of the few juniors in the memory of some of the oldest students to be selected editor of the Oklahoma Daily. Prior to his election he worked on the Daily as reporter and assistant sport editor, and has had experience in the editorial rooms of the Daily Oklahoman of Oklahoma City.

In 1920 he was elected freshman yell leader and made the football team that year. In 1921, he advanced to the varsity squad. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta, social fraternity. He is also a member of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, Cubs' club and Mystic Keys, honorary sophomore society.

be of value to some of the readers of the News: Sweet potatoes should be thoroughly dried out when dug before they are to be kept. When dug they contain an enormous amount of moisture and will rot easily unless some of this is removed.

The sweet potato house or kiln should be equipped with a stove or furnace so the temperature may be raised. This evaporates the moisture and dries the potatoes. They will then keep.

When the potatoes are being dug all injured specimens should be thrown out. No specimens that are not sound and free from disease should be put in the kiln or house. The potato house should be built so it will be easily ventilated. Where moisture accumulates on the tubers or in the house during winter the temperature should be raised to evaporate it.

This year co-operative marketing of cotton will be given a thorough test in eight states. The war finance corporation has advanced the association a total credit of $57,500,000 and they have also secured funds from banks when necessary. This will enable the organizations to work without difficulty and if this year's operations prove successful, the co-operative movement will be given a great impetus.

The livestock men are also pushing their organization and in a few more years may be in a position to control the marketing of a large part of the livestock.

MILL CREEK HIGH SWAMPED TUESDAY BY COLLEGE MEN

East Central College gridsters had a easy time with Mill Creek high school lads in a practice game here yesterday afternoon. Thompson's men scored almost at will and put across any play desired. This was the first practice game of the year and Thompson said today he was fairly well pleased with the action of his squad.

At the same time, however, his second string men were bowing before the onslaught of the high school squad on high school field. Coach Cox's youngsters scored three times in the game and exhibited a much better brand of football than did the second best men of the college.

It was the first time either team had been in action. Opening game of the high school will be played Friday and Cox was anxious to try his new men out before putting them against the strong Okmulgee line.

Many fans were out to see the two teams operate. On account of late arrival, the college game went into darkness before being completed. Mill Creek boys put up a good fight, but were too far outclassed by the older, heavier and more experienced men from the college.

Farmers' Column

By Byron Norrell

A representative of the News called at J. F. Weldon's farm a few days ago and found the place white with chickens, Wyandottes. He was told that they had raised more than 500 this year.

The students in agriculture at the East Central Teachers college are getting some valuable first hand experience in studying cotton. Prof. McCormick and his students raised a patch containing six or eight standard varieties and the classes are now observing and studying the various kinds. There is a wide difference in the yield of the different varieties, although it was all planted at the same time and had the same attention. It will be picked in a few days and a full report will be given in the News. Mr. McCormick will send samples to the A. & M. college and a test made of the linting and other qualities.

Another crop is grain sorghums. Half a dozen varieties have been raised and a report will also be made on these. However, no comparison of the head yields can be made, because the sparrows ate all the white seeded heads, only the dark grains escaping their depredations.

This year co-operative marketing of cotton will be given a thorough test in eight states. The war finance corporation has advanced the association a total credit of $57,500,000 and they have also secured funds from banks when necessary. This will enable the organizations to work without difficulty and if this year's operations prove successful, the co-operative movement will be given a great impetus.

"I could not work at all and had to take to my bed with a high fever due to intestinal indigestion, gases in my stomach and pains in my right side. I had spent my last cent for doctors and medicine, which gave me no relief. I was in despair. A lodge brother gave me a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and the first dose relieved me. Thanks to the medicine I am now in the best of health." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation, which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis.
